

Top news

In the spotlight: Erasmus+ brings people together

There are many ways in which the Erasmus+ programme can get you socially engaged, whether by volunteering, participating in trainings, through exchange or by getting bright new ideas.

Read more...

We need your Erasmus+ Top Tips!

This month, we are delighted to let you in on a little secret... The Erasmus+ app is nearly ready! While we don't want to give too much away just yet, let's just say that it is sure to enhance the mobility experience for generations to come. But before the big release date, scheduled for mid-June, we need your help...

Read more...

Online applications: Erasmus+ made easier

Tired of scrolling through long, PDF-based applications? Erasmus+ applications forms are moving from an old, PDF-based format to a web format. The first pilot to be filled in fully online will be the Youth application forms. Web forms for other sectors are coming soon!

Read more...

Your guide to the Mobility Tool+ is now online

Looking for information on how to manage your Erasmus+ projects? Want to know more about the Mobility Tool+? Check out the new guide for beneficiaries, now available online.

Read more...

The latest update on European Solidarity Corps

The European Solidarity Corps is starting to take shape! Around 28,000 young people have registered, hundreds of organisations have used the portal, several thousand registered young people have been contacted and dozens of placement offers have been made. After these achievements, we are excited to find out what's next in store.

Read more...

Vocational education and training

Europeans trained to help and protect

From firefighters to supermarket staff, Erasmus+ helps Europeans learn vocational skills to become active citizens. Through learning different skills, participants contribute more to society. On top of that, a number of Erasmus+ projects support vocational learners to acquire specific skills to make their work much more inclusive.

Read more...

Where solidarity meets employability

Building houses for Roma communities, taking care of disabled relatives, taking time off work to help others... Besides being a great means for making a contribution to society and meeting new people, these can all be pathways towards greater employability. There are many examples to share.

Read more...

Adult learning

Solidarity has no age limit

Young or old, very experienced or an avid learner; we all have something to contribute to society and to others. Erasmus+ projects know this and bring people together to share both their knowledge and form new friendships.

Read more...

What makes an active citizen?

'Don't ask what your country can do for you, ask what you can do for your country'. Following the advice of John F. Kennedy, many citizens around Europe are actively seeking to improve society. To support their efforts, a number of Erasmus+ projects are equipping adult learners with tools to raise awareness and be even more active and efficient.

Read more...

Published by: European Commission, DG Education, Youth, Sport and Culture

If the Erasmus+ newsletter was forwarded to you and you would like to receive it directly you can subscribe here.